

The ropeswing was there, the ride was fun, and we saw a rattlesnake, but nobody got bit.

Top: Dan on Swing. He rode the 62 Hunqaprotopillar that Jay's been riding in the videos. Wearing Keens. Right: I don't usually post my pic here, don't like to do that, but Ryan sent me these off Dan's camera, and that's what came. Wearing Texas.

Right: About a 40-inch rattler, typical for this area. This one didn't rattle until tossed a tiny dirt clod in it's direction (PETA-'lert: Didn't hit it, didn't try).

If you ride in this area, don't think the hills are full of rattlesnakes. I think this is the only one we ever see. He makes the rounds!

In attendance: Dan, me. Aaron, Tony, and Matt, who took the 54-Qapillar on its virgin-maiden-whatever trip.
